

Summer Internship Programs

Cornell Career Services

Off-Campus Paid Opportunities

Federal Work-Study Eligible Students

Develop Your Own (DYO) Summer Internship Program

Students find or develop a paid, career-related internship off-campus with a non-profit or small business. Employers receive a partial reimbursement (50-75%) of hourly wages.

New York City Public Service Corps (NYCPSC)

Students are assigned to work with a city department in one of the five boroughs of New York. There is an agency that assists with matching students with opportunities.

Community Work Study Program (CWSP)

Connects FWS eligible students with non-profit or community service employers in the Ithaca and Tompkins County area. Coordinated by the Cornell Public Service Center.

To learn more about these programs:

career.cornell.edu... Students... Finding Jobs... Internships and Summer Jobs... Formal CU Programs

Any Student (Regardless of Financial Aid Status or Major)

Cornell's Urban Semester Program

Option for an 8-week summer program in New York City that includes four-day internships plus seminars in multicultural and professional practice once each week. This is open to Cornell junior and senior undergraduate students from any college.

Project ION

Offers a variety of summer internships in Upstate New York to students from participating colleges and universities in the region.

Summer on the Cuyahoga (SOTC)

Provides an immersive experience in the Cleveland, OH area. Students are a part of challenging internships, community introductions, alumni connections, and group housing for the summer. Current sophomores, juniors, and seniors are eligible.

Cornell in Washington's Summer in Washington Program

Offers an opportunity to earn credits, complete an internship, and explore the city. Normally, students participate in their junior year, or during the first semester of their senior year.

Cornell in Hollywood

Offers a number of film-related internships specifically for Cornell students thanks to Cornell alumni currently working in the film industry and the Cornell Club of Los Angeles.

Summer Internship Programs

Cornell Career Services

Off-Campus Paid Opportunities

Cornell's Entrepreneurship at Cornell Summer Internship Program

10-week internship program for students interested in gaining first-hand experience working for entrepreneurial companies. While preference is given to juniors, seniors, and first year MBA students, sophomores are also welcome to apply.

The Janet McKinley '74 Family Grant

Assists students in pursuing interesting, provocative, and entrepreneurial summer projects. Open to all Cornell sophomores.

Cornell Botanical Gardens Internship Program

Internships in botanical collections, natural areas research, the wildflower garden, and education.

Cornell's Shoals Marine Laboratory

Unique opportunities for students to experience marine science through summer research internships and employment (in addition to summer courses) on Appledore Island, in the Gulf of Maine. All years and majors are welcome to apply.

To learn more about these opportunities:

career.cornell.edu... Students... Finding Jobs... Internships and Summer Jobs... Formal CU Programs

Atkinson Center Summer Internships for a Sustainable Future

Cornell students can apply for paid internships with environmental advocacy groups, such as the Environmental Defense Fund (EDF) and Oceana. The interns work on cutting-edge sustainability issues in vibrant workplaces to gain subject matter expertise and workplace skills. Supported by generous alumni: David and Pat Atkinson and Jill and Ken Iscol.

To learn more about the Atkinson Center:

career.cornell.edu... Students... Finding Jobs... Internships and Summer Jobs... Alumni Funded Internships

Cornell Handshake

A web-based system that Cornell Career Services uses to bring you career-related information, job and internship postings (including on-campus recruiting), employer events, and more. Find more information on some of the above programs by logging into your account.

Questions?

dyo_program@cornell.edu | nycpsc_summer_program@cornell.edu | ccscareerexplore@cornell.edu